“The state should not require conclusive, causal evidence of a potential health risk to children, just the evidence of risk documented above and elsewhere. The question is – when is the evidence sufficient to take action? Studies of the harmful effects of wireless radiation were silenced by the DOH/OSPI narrow review criteria, and qualified data with evidence of harm was excluded from the draft report. The school stands “in loco parentis” for our children and as such has a responsibility to provide a safe learning environment. There is no conclusive evidence that wireless is safe and the state has an obligation to immediately remove Wi-Fi and cordless phones until proven safe.”
